The $1.00 Assortment

These are 40-inch wide Swisses—tinted grounds in the main, relieved with clear white or black stripes, between and on which are embroidered (not printed) sprigs of contrasting tones—hard to conceive of anything prettier in wash

New Manager Elected.

The Opera House Orchestra has elected as its new manager, W. H.
Paul, who succeeds J. H. Fischer. Mr.
Paul, who took hold yesterday, will fill the position with rare ability. For years he was connected with two German military bands that toured the country, and he came from Germany with one of them, the Hessian Military band. Aside from his experience in a managerial capacity, Mr. Paul is a most competent musician. As a tenor and trap drummer he has no superior in this section, and he is an equally good performer on the trombone. It is a safe prediction that under Manager Paul, the Opera House band and orchestra will further popularize itself with the people of Wheeling and vicinity. To the retiring manager, Mr. Fischer, much of the success of the organization is due.
Mr. Fischer had charge for several years, but recently he found that other care consumed too much of his time.

TWO VIOLENT
DEATHS OCCUR
IN WHEELING

Within Two Days, the Second Victim Being Michael Miller, Who Met His Death.

ON THE RAILROAD TRACK

At Elm Grove—Jury's Verdict That Patrick Sweeney was Killed by a Person Unknown.

Within a space of two days Wheeling has been the scene of two fatalities. It is now definitely ascertained that Patrick Sweeney, whose body was found Monday at the foot of Fifth street, was killed by some person or persons unknown. The second fatality occurred early Tuesday morning, at Elm Grove, the victim being a mill workman, Michael Miller.

Michael Miller Killed.

Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock, William Rose, walking to town from Elm Grove, saw the body of a man on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks at a point opposite Cecil's station. Rose gathered up the body, which was terribly mangled, and placed it near the tracks, after which he notified Constable John Anderson, of Elm Grove, of the discovery he had made. The body was taken to Thornburgh's undertaking establishment in Elm Grove, where an examination revealed the startling fact that the man might not have come to his death by a railroad accident as was at first supposed. The discovery of what appeared to be a bullet hole in the head induced this hasty conclusion, which, however, proved to be unwarranted by the facts.

It was learned soon afterward that the deceased was Michael Miller, a son of Michael Miller, who lives in Ohio county, near the Pennsylvania state line. Young Miller has been employed for some time at the Bellaire steel works, and was on his way home to visit his father when the accident occurred.

The authorities began an investigation without delay, both Sheriff Richards and Chief of Police Clemens becoming interested in the case. It was soon learned that Michael Miller had been at the Imperial hotel bar, on South Main street, between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and the proprietor, Joseph Barum, went out to Elm Grove in the afternoon, to view the remains and learn whether or not the dead man was the Michael Miller who had visited his place. Mr. Barum without hesitation stated that the body was that of the young man who was in his saloon at the time mentioned. He was accompanied, says Mr. Barum, by a recently returned Philippine veteran, whose name he did not know. The soldier, added Mr. Barum, did not accompany Miller when he left the Imperial between 12 and 1 o'clock. Miller's movements after this are unknown at the present time. How he reached the spot where the accident occurred is a mystery.

The fact that Miller did not leave the Imperial until 12 or 1 o'clock yesterday morning disposes of the importance of the story told by Major Thomas N. Norton, who resides near the scene of the accident, and who stated yesterday that members of his family heard several shots fired at 11 o'clock Monday night.
If Miller did not leave the city until midnight he could not have been killed at 11.

Late yesterday afternoon, Drs. Carter and Alexander, at the instance of County Coroner Schultze, conducted a post-mortem examination over Miller's body, and it proved a most important development in the case, entirely disposing of the theory that the man had been shot by an unknown murderer and the body placed on the railroad tracks. Dr. Carter, when seen last night, said that the examination had shown conclusively that the holes in Miller's head were not caused by a revolver or gun shot. They were caused in some manner by the engine or car that ran him down.

County Coroner Schultze, who was under the impression that Miller had been murdered, arranged for an inquest this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which Drs. Alexander and Carter will make their report.

Sheriff Richards was at work on the case last evening, but of course he de-sisted when he learned from the physicians that the man had met death by accident.

The Patrick Sweeney Murder.

Yesterday afternoon there was a coroner's inquest into the cause of the death of Patrick Sweeney, whose dead body was found Monday at the foot of Fifth street. Several witnesses were examined at the inquest, which was held in the afternoon, and as a result the jury brought in a verdict that Sweeney had come to his death as the result of a gun-shot or revolver wound inflicted by a person or persons unknown. The police are at work on the case, but up to the present time they have little or no evidence on which to work up the case. There may be developments within a few hours, however.

THE HUB CLOTHIERS.

Time, Young Man,

has taught us both a lesson. It has taught you, young man, the wisdom of dressing as well as you can afford to dress, and it has taught us how to help you to do so at the least expense.

It has taught you the foolishness of shoddy and of a false cheapness, and it has taught us that nothing is too good for the young man of to-day.

Let us unite issues on this basis of what time has taught us both, and let us give you the benefit of what we have learned about fine clothing in the past quarter of a century. It will save you money and will insure your being as well dressed as is possible.
